Re: Planning for Future Election Dates

Dear President Tate:

The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund (LDF), the Power Coalition for Equity and Justice (Power Coalition), and The Team write to encourage Louisiana State University (LSU) to consider critical election-related dates in planning for the institution's academic, alumni, and athletic calendars. Amid an important election year for the state and nation, it is incumbent upon Louisiana universities to employ calendaring measures that would allow students, faculty, and staff to avoid making costly trade-offs between engaging in the election process or participating in coveted school events. For example, in 2023, several Louisiana-based colleges and universities hosted major academic, alumni, or athletic events during critical election periods, including early voting and Election Day.¹ By anticipating important election dates, the institution may deploy scheduling and awareness strategies to boost the campus's engagement with the 2024 election and future cycles.

An institution's calendar that reflects key election dates will likely raise awareness among institutional leadership, faculty, and staff. In 2023, LSU's football game against

¹ For example, both Southern University and Grambling State University hosted their homecoming weekends on October 14, 2024, the date of the statewide Gubernatorial Primary Elections, while many other schools, including LSU, hosted home football games. See, e.g., La. the Auburn Tigers conflicted with the state's Primary Election on October 14. Over one-hundred thousand people attended the game.²

Looking ahead in 2024, event scheduling premised upon the institution's calendar can avoid conflicting with not only the November 5 national elections, but the December general elections.³ Alternatively, should a conflict stand, institutional leadership, faculty, and staff should promote and encourage students to take a course of action to engage in the political process. For instance, in 2022, the NBA announced they would not have games on Election Day.⁴ Additionally, all games on the night before Election Day encouraged voting and civic participation, including having voter registration tables at the games. As a large university with a huge athletics program, LSU has the power to make a big impact this year.

LSU can be proactive by encouraging students to vote early in person or absentee-by-mail (if they qualify),⁵ imploring students to develop a voting plan, advising students to check their voter registration status, and advertising important election dates via available print and digital media. The University could also place voter registration tables at any events scheduled on important election dates, including sporting events. Taking these affirmative steps to avoid or mitigate scheduling conflicts and encourage participation in the electoral process is essential.

Election calendars for the next several years are attached herein for your consideration. It is worth noting that additional election dates will likely be added in 2026 given the state's change from an open primary system to a closed primary system for select

Legal Defense Fund (LDF)

Since its founding in 1940, LDF has used litigation, policy advocacy, public education, and community organizing strategies to achieve racial justice and equity in education, economic justice, political participation, and criminal justice. Throughout its history, LDF has worked to enforce and promote laws and policies that increase access to the electoral process and prohibit voter discrimination, intimidation, and suppression.

Power Coalition for Equity and Justice

The Power Coalition for Equity and Justice works to build voice and power in traditionally ignored communities. We are a coalition of groups from across Louisiana whose mission is to organize in impacted communities, educate and turn out voters, and fight for policies that create a more equitable and just system in Louisiana.

The Team

The Team is a nonprofit organization that creates award-winning programming focused on integrating nonpartisan civic engagement and voter participation into college athletics. We offer pathways for every athlete, coach, and administrator to become more engaged citizens.
